

Guidelines for Call For Poetry

Submission Period:

January 1, 2023 to February 15, 2023 at midnight.

Notable Works Publication and Distribution Co., Inc. is seeking original poetry fitting the Theme: “Awakening a Resolve for Re-Discovery, Resolution, Adaptation and Growth as it relates to the natural environment, for the upcoming 2023 publication of Voices of the Earth: The Future of Our Planet III.

You may submit up to three original works not previously published, each one formatted in 12-point Times New Roman font, not exceeding 60 lines (which includes the title and any spaces in-between) and no more than 66 characters on each line (which includes spaces and punctuation). Extremely Important: Poems need to be sent as word document attachments, NOT IN THE BODY OF THE E-MAIL. And please, NO PDF'S.

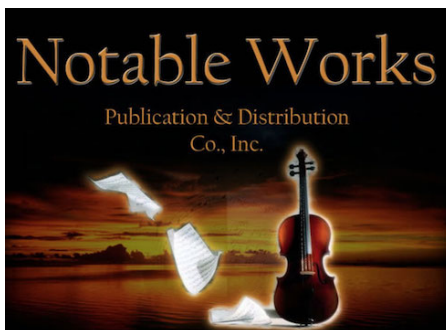

You are required to attach a separate cover letter and bio to your e-mail, along with an attachment containing only your poem submission. The cover letter and bio must not exceed 125 words each. You may attach the cover letter and bio as one document if desired. Again, please attach all materials as WORD DOCUMENTS.

If you are under 18 years of age, you must state your age, and the postal address and contact information for your parent or guardian so that in the event that your work is accepted for publication, Notable Works can follow up to obtain the required permission from them to publish your work.

Your cover letter MUST include the names of the poems you are submitting, along with your postal mailing address. These documents will be kept separate from your actual poems, so that all judging and evaluations from our panel can be done blindly. Please..... DO NOT include any identifying information on your poems themselves. This information will be in your cover letter/bio only, and attached as a separate document to your submission. Any identifying information on the poems themselves will disqualify the poem from consideration.
